

TOUR to CORNWALL

Tuesday 18th to Friday 21st April 2023

LANHYDROCK (Free to NT members; otherwise £17)

Lanhydrock is lucky to have survived into the 21st Century. In 1754 it was considered for demolition– and then again in 1881. When the National Trust accepted the property in 1953, it did so for the landscape value of the park and estate; the house was considered a white elephant. Today's restored house is a testament to Michael Trick, the NT's regional director.

PENZANCE – British Paintings and Wall Paintings

Penlee House Gallery (£6)

We will have a guided tour of this small gallery containing many works by the Newlyn School.

St Hilary's Church and Heritage Centre has strong links with the Newlyn School of artists.

St Breaca Church frescoes

This beautiful country church contains many late medieval wall paintings which were uncovered in 1891.

FALMOUTH – A Free day to choose from

National Maritime Museum Cornwall (£15.50)

Falmouth Art Gallery (Free entry)

Pendennis Castle (£12.50)

[and/or the beach and a good restaurant!]

TRURO

Truro Cathedral A late Victorian building in splendid Gothic style with notable stained glass. We will have a tour of this church built on the site of the old parish church which was incorporated into the new building.

Accommodation

We will be staying at Truro Premier Inn (TR3 6JT) with breakfast and dinner included. The rooms are all ensuite with double or king-size beds.

Travel

Blakes Coaches will provide one of their large, comfortable coaches.

Pick-up points as usual at Brushford, Bampton and Hartnoll Hotel.

There will be a certain amount of walking as we tour around but we have tried to avoid steep hills and flights of steps.

Cost

£450 with a single supplement of £200.

Travel insurance available at £25.

Entrance fees (where they are charged) are indicated on the itinerary.

Lunch is not included but suitable stops will be provided.

Booking

Accommodation in Cornwall is at a premium and so we need to book early so that we do not lose it.

Deposit

£50 per person payable to The Arts Society Exmoor

The balance is payable by 1st March 2023

Bank details: The Arts Society Exmoor.

Account no: 38034441. Sort code: 52-30-42 Ref: "Tour"
